

Procedure for Consent to Share Student Work

Purpose

In order to recognize student achievement, Elizabethton City Schools may share student work on the school or district website, district-approved social networking websites, or other print or digital publications. Because copyright laws protect students' original works, the student's parent or eligible student must provide written consent, including copyright consent, for such work to be shared. By signing the Consent to share Student Work Form below, the parent or eligible student does not relinquish any rights or ownership of the work, but does allow Elizabethton City Schools to share the work for promotional purposes or student recognition. This form should be submitted to the Public Relations Coordinator and must be retained in perpetuity.
